

Achim Bub (MD; human physiology) is head of the Division of Human Studies at the MRI. He has an education in nutritional medicine and extensive experience in human dietary intervention studies. His focus is on bioavailability and bioactivity of phytochemicals and their relevance for human health. He is a lecturer for nutrition and physical activity at the Karlsruhe Institute of Technology.